

Any Wolves out there? Time to join the pack! No Woulda Shoulda Coulda, AwareWolves have delivered an absolute earworm with “Coulda”, and there is more where that came from!

In the lead up to the release of the most authentic and refreshing Hard Rock album coming out of NZ this year, AwareWolves announce “Coulda” the first single from debut album “AwareWolves: The Great Awakening”.

Available from November 1st 2023, “Coulda” is the first morsel you can get your claws on – it’s been a fan favourite “right from day one” – Coulda is catchy, entirely relatable, and includes all the elements of the AwareWolves signature sound!

- Acute vocal tones pelting rather relatable lyrics,
- Feel-good guitar riffs and elastic bends,
- and a hard-driven rhythm section with stern basslines, expressive drumming, and a striking beat that all bind adhesively.

“They’ve taken everything that you love about good hard rock music and combined it all into one.” It's progressive, full of surprises, and undeniably good! ‘Coulda’ may just get stuck in your head.

Coulda is available on all good streaming platforms from November 1st

Keep your ear to the ground for updates surrounding the full album release, and if you are near the Hawkes Bay on November 18th, get to the "AwareWolves: The Great Awakening" Album Release Party to see NZ's most mysterious band deliver their most powerful and polished performance to date, on one of the best sound and lighting rigs in Hawkes Bay, hosted at Napier's Paisley Stage.
